* * * *

THE world is again technically at peace, but just as the habits of the pre-war era carried over into the first months of the war—providing that strange unreality which we later referred to as the ' Phoney War '—so the privations and usages of the later true war period have inevitably carried over into the first months of peace.

An effort has indeed been made to attempt a return to peace time conditions in re-starting the Southern Amateur League, but the fact that only 14 Clubs have been able to take part, make the Competition only a shadow of its former self. Nevertheless, we are indeed grateful to the officials and the clubs who have joined in the venture this season, particularly to those who are called upon to travel long distances, under far from congenial conditions. There is no doubt the next Season's competition will be much nearer to the standard of pre-war days, than had the resuscitation of the League been delayed another year.

Another factor which retains the atmosphere of war-time football is the protracted period of Demobilisation. True, several old members have returned to this country, and have been seen at this Club, a few even have returned to civil life, but by and large our old members are still absent, and the great re-union which everyone had anticipated, seems as far off as ever.

The most pleasing thing to report this year is the increasing competition for places in the 1st XI. During the War period there was undoubtedly a considerable gap between the standard of play of the 1st XI and the reserves. League football demands a Reserve XI playing the same style of football as the seniors, and individually able to take their place in the 1st's, without unbalancing the side.

We have still some way to go to achieve this, but with the steady influx of seasoned players from the Forces, and the development of our promising young talent it should be quite possible in the near future.

1st XI REPORT.

October 6th.

Mayfield were almost too much for our chaps in this opening friendly match and Johnny Peters was kept pretty busy in the home goal. However, our defence survived and after about 15 minutes Vic Haskell made ground on the right, crossed to Bernard Thompson whose pass to Keenan enabled the latter to score as he liked. Mayfield scarcely deserved to be one down, their outside-right and centre-forward in particular giving our defence a trying time, and from a centre by the former the inside-left scored. They continued to have the best of it, but didn't succeed in improving their score by half-time.

Our forwards started the second half confidently; Hasemore, Haskell and Ron Carter (brother of Bernard) were prominent in a series of well executed attacking movements which culminated in Hasemore securing the lead with a neat header. Swinging the ball about freely they continued to dominate the game and Carter with a nicely judged pass sent Haskell away to score with a hard drive. Haskell was the prime mover in securing the fourth goal; sprinting down the wing he cut in and his shot hitting the crossbar re-bounded to Hasemore who scored.

Straight from the kick-off Mayfield scored, a misunderstanding between two Hill defenders letting in their centre-forward. Recovering their first-half dominance they succeeded in scoring again, and with five minutes to go it appeared likely that they would force a draw but the Hill's defence held with the score: Winchmore Hill 4—Mayfield 3.

October 13th.

This should have been our first S.A.L. fixture v. Merton away, but Merton were engaged in a Cup-tie so our fellows went to Isleworth to meet the Royal Netherlands Navy.

Unfortunately, Eric Ings and a friend who came in at the last moment owing to a late "cry off" were delayed and when they arrived the Navy were two up. Before the latecomers could get into action, the home team got another goal, but it was the last they were allowed to score.

Previous encounters have been characterised by fast, open football and this was no exception. The 'Hill' with a full eleven dominated the game, the defence in which Alec Cooper re-appeared at right back and gave a good account of himself comfortably held the Navy's attacks, but our forwards excellent approach work was spoilt by unsteadiness in front of goal and only one goal resulted scored by B. Thompson.

Royal Netherlands Navy 3—Winchmore Hill 1.

October 20th.

Against Eastbourne the Hill played and won their first S.A.L. fixture at home. Eastbourne fielded a strong side and in beating them our fellows have rarely, if ever, put up a better performance. The side included Eccles, a newcomer playing at inside right. Jimmy Keenan at inside left has never performed better for the Hill.

It was a terrific first half, and within 5 minutes the Hill were one up when Eastbourne's goalkeeper in collecting a long shot by Eccles failed to notice Elmer who had followed up and allowed him to breast the ball into the net. A great struggle followed with the Hill attacking strongly. The Eastbourne defence, which included a 6-ft. 7-in. centre-half, were on their toes, and 20 minutes elapsed before Elmer, getting away on the left, crossed to Eccles, who rounded the back and scored with a grand shot. The same player completed a fine individual effort with a shot placed well out of the reach of Eastbourne's keeper.

Half-time arrived without further score and on resuming Eastbourne with the advantage of the slope initiated some strong attacks and shot from long range whenever opportunity served in an effort to reduce the deficit. The Hill's defence in which Ernie Ings, Frank Thompson and Alec Cooper were prominent kept them out, and a pass to Keenan near the centre sent him off on a dazzling run, only to be fouled just outside the penalty area; Ernie Wiseman took the kick—his shot struck the post and from the rebound Bernard Thompson scored. Vic Haskell who gave his usual sound performance at outside right completed the scoring.

Winchmore Hill 5—Eastbourne 0.

October 27th.

At Barnet, Old Stationers did not provide very serious opposition in the second of the S.A.L. fixtures, a free scoring game being won by 9 goals to 3.

The Hill were without Ings and Keenan, but Carter and Hatch filled the vacancies with credit, the former in particular confirming the good opinion formed of him. Hatch was on embarkation leave and will not be available again for some time. Of the 'regulars,' Frank Thompson and Peters were outstanding. A feature of the game was the number of corners conceded by the Stationers and Elmer scored directly from one of these. Ray Livermore playing at inside left was the star performer of the Stationers and notched their three goals. Establishing a lead of 4 goals to 2 in the first half, the Hill maintained their superiority adding 5 more for 1 against. Our scorers were Elmer (2), B. Thompson (2), Eccles, Haskell, Hatch, F. Thompson and Alec Cooper.

November 3rd.

The match against Catford Wanderers at Catford was lost by the narrow margin of 3 goals to 2. It was one of those days on which it was odds on the team which won the toss, and this Catford did, putting the Hill to face a low sun. Despite this handicap our fellows put up a fine performance in holding the home team to a draw 2—2 in the first half and would have been leading, had not Peters been temporarily blinded when taking a long, dropping shot.

Resuming, without the disadvantage of the sun, Catford were slightly the better side, their wing-halves in particular repeatedly bringing the ball well up to the forwards, initiating several dangerous movements in one of which the winning goal was scored. The Hill's goals were scored by Vic Haskell and Bernard Thompson.

2A XI REPORT.October 6th.

The 2A XI opened their season well by defeating Old Latymerians 2—0 at Hounslow. The Hill had most of the play and with better luck and finishing would have won by a larger margin.

Elmer was outstanding in the forward line and scored an excellent goal after a solo run through the opposing defence. Alec Cooper steadied the defence by his play and advice.

The second goal came after a goalmouth scramble from an O.L. defender.

We left the field well satisfied and conscious of the lesson in heading given by a certain gentleman of oriental complexion—named Ron Brown.

October 13th.

Although only ten men strong, Merton Reserves inflicted a 3—0 defeat on the Hill 2A XI. Their deficiency was somewhat diminished by having Laurie Fishlock at left half.

The fast-moving Merton forwards tested the defence to the full and always looked dangerous when near the Hill goal.

The Hill forward line made several good movements but all chances of forcing at least a draw were lost through poor finishing.

The result was a fair reflection of the play the Hill being beaten by speed and experience.

October 20th.

On October 20th we visited Hazelwood Lane, to play our friends Mayfield Reserves. We lost this game by 7—0, but the result flatters them as we had at least half the play.

In the opening exchanges Mayfield were very lucky in scoring two goals in the first ten minutes, but although we fought back Mayfield added a third before half-time. After the interval, however, with a rearranged side, we looked the more dangerous for a period of about fifteen minutes, and were very unlucky not to score when Lambert hit the post, Bell the cross-bar and Hasemore headed into the goal-keeper's hands. Against the run of the play Mayfield added the fourth and after this the game deteriorated into all kick and rush with Mayfield kicking to such good effect that they added three more goals without reply. The game was only brightened by the fact that Hatch (home on leave) and Hasemore were in their best form.

October 27 (League).

A well deserved victory of 4—2 was gained over the Polytechnic at Chiswick. The Hill team played better together than previously this season.

The goals were scored by Chapman (2), Bell and Bain. All these goals were the result of fast movement and accurate passing among all the forwards.

The outstanding players were Hasemore, Bain and Gilroy. The last-named distinguishing himself particularly in his first game for the 2A XI. He was injured in the knee shortly after the K.O. but played magnificently, especially in the second half when his fearless goalkeeping saved many situations.

November 3rd (Friendly).

Old Lyonians were defeated decisively at the Hill, 9—1. The Hill being strengthened by Den Wade, who was on leave.

As the score suggests it was largely a matter of kicking in. On the few occasions that the Old Lyonians developed an attack, Medlock and Peacock soon spoilt it.

The scorers were Hasemore 4, Bell 3, and Chapman and Bain 1 each. Hasemore had a gala day and Tony Chapman left the O.L. left back with the impression that he was playing against Group-Captain Wilson, complete with Meteor.

November 10 (League).

The 2A XI beat Trinity County Old Boys 3—1 at Durnsford Road. It was a very keenly contested game, particularly in the second half when the Old Boys made strenuous efforts to level the scores.

The opening goal was an unstoppable shot by Smith, after continuous pressing by the Hill. A great deal of mid-field play followed this until the Hill scored again—Bell this time.

Shortly after half time the Old Boys scored and continued to press heavily. Tony Chapman scored the third goal for the Hill, which was a just reward for his energetic and constructive play.

The bright spots of this November afternoon were the dazzling socks of the Hill skipper, who went to extraordinary efforts to keep them clean.

2B XI REPORT.October 6th v Old Ignatians at Home

The 2B side, which last year had some difficulty in fielding a full side at any time, promises to function to full capacity this season, with players to spare.

We heralded the opening of the 1945-6 season with a 6—1 win over Old Ignatians at home. Tony (Atomic Energy) Chapman sprayed the back of the net in usual style, and the rest of the boys indulged in some much-needed shooting practise.

The half-back line shows promise, with Ken Elliott at left and Peter (Hyperbolic) Simmons doing some useful work in the centre. After some rather disastrous lapses, Pete has now gone into serious training.

Dave Gilroy, of the New Zealand Army is the star of the team. He brought off some fine saves, and his judgment in coming out is really first rate. It rather looks as though we shall be losing Dave before long, for he is destined for higher planes (of football, anyway).

The scorers were Chapman 2, Haynes, Lambert own goal 2.

October 13th v Mayfield III Away.

The season's first game with Mayfield III resulted in a draw of 3—3. The battles with Mayfield are usually pretty stern and this was no exception, but a draw seems to be the best we can get from them. A fair result too, from the play on both sides.

Chapman again performed his high speed tactics and ran away with two goals. Smith scored the third.

October 20th v Trinity County Old Boys at Home.

A 5—3 win against Trinity County shows the 2B's still going strong. Ted Barrett stood out as the most dangerous of the forwards and twice bashed the onion bag, once after a fine run of 30 yards.

Dave Gilroy had a good game and enjoyed himself like a pig in mud. An early nose-bleeder put him in just the right mood to dive amongst oncoming forwards. With Dave its usually Goliath who gets hurt.

Ken Elliott maintained his usual form and Whittaker, a newcomer, showed definite promise at left back.

Allen (Eggs) Bacon has a nice line of dribbling and performed some nice runs along the right wing touchline. When he gets more weight he will do some good things.

The scorers were Barrett 2, Hunt, Kilshell.

October 27th v Old Stationers at Home.

The winning streak continued as we defeated Old Stationers by 5—3. The game was fairly evenly matched and it was the zest for goals that won this game for the Hill.

Barrett and French scored very good goals but the best came from Ken Elliott, who came through from left half to put in an unstoppable one. Clifford and 'own goal' made up the total.

NEWS FROM THE FORCES.

It is with the greatest regret that we have to report the death of Norman Welsford whilst a prisoner of war in Japan. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Welsford for this tragic end to the long period of waiting which they bore with such fortitude.

Norman's unit was in action for three weeks after they arrived in Java, and the Dutch then hoisted the White Flag. The British took to the hills with their guns, but were severely pounded from the air and had little opportunity of making contact with any enemy forces on the ground.

When capture became inevitable, Norman and three others made their way to the coast, but were forced to return after three days, having failed to locate a boat of any kind.

Whilst in Java, conditions were fairly good and the men were employed on rope making with primitive spinning wheels. After they were removed to Japan, however, conditions deteriorated. There was a definite shortage of food and only one day's rest in twelve was allowed which was occupied by a series of parades and inspections. In spite of these conditions the men in this camp managed to maintain a fair condition of health.

Norman, who had been promoted Bombadier, was set to work with others in a gold mine, and it was whilst working in the mine that he met his death from a sudden fall of rock.

Norman had become so popular that special representations were made to the Japanese who eventually allowed his two closest friends to follow to the Cremation.

DE MOBS.

Already returned to civilian life are T. G. Brooking, Bill Jacques, Edward Sandrock, Dudley Wright, Stan Marshall, Wally Varley and Sergeant Ambridge. Although this is the last time their names will appear in this particular section of 'The Chat' we hope to be able to include a few authentic 'off the record' reminiscences.

THE NAVY.

This branch of the Services appears unduly reticent, at present, but news is to hand of R. H. Wilgoss who is on his way to Portsmouth, where he expects to be transferred to another ship, and Doug Grout, who is still aboard H.M.S. Khedive and has been helping to transport Prisoners of War from Singapore and Malaya. He recently had a short leave in Durban, and has great hopes of being home in December.

Sergeant Ambridge, who has added a further 4 medals to the three he collected in the 1914/18 scraps, tells us he was on the 'Bullin' when she was torpedoed in December, 1940. Subsequently he spent fifteen months on Russian convoys.

B. A. O. R.

Fred Kenyon is kept busy from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day, but has managed sufficient time off for a few games of Soccer. He may possibly apply for release under Class 'B' but seems apprehensive of House Hunting.

Bernard Carter is in good spirits and hoping to be demobbed this year.

A. Lucas is at present stationed at Bochum on the Rhur. Is looking forward to leave at the end of November, when more details of his activities may be forthcoming.

Ken Titmus is still in Brussels, and likely to be there for some time.

C.M.F. AND M.E.F.

Bill Brooks is at present in Greece, and has been promoted Major. His father is expecting to sail for the Middle East shortly, and Bill hopes to have an opportunity to meet his father in Cairo.

C. Hatch left England at the beginning of November, and by the time these notes are published may be somewhere in Northern Italy. Fortunately he managed to get in a few games with the Club before leaving the Country, and fully appreciated the opportunity of playing on non-Army pitches.

R. B. Fowler is still in Palestine, and does not expect to be home before next April, when he looks forward to his Demob. His latest letters have been somewhat brief; we presume conditions in that area are keeping him fully occupied.

Pat Larkin is in Austria, and getting some football with his Unit which he hopes will keep him in practice. He has great hopes of Home Leave in 1946.

A. H. Rissbrook has again gone overseas. He is known to have landed at Taranto, and when last heard of, had penetrated as far North as Benevento. He expects to reach Austria eventually, but after 24 hours in an Italian train was not looking forward to the remainder of the journey.

S. E. A. C.

Don Ashby, is apparently still thoroughly immersed in sporting activities. He is Vice President of the Area Sports Committee, and Captain of the Wing Soccer XI, for which he plays centre-half. He also still plays goal, for the Hockey side, and gets in a spot of Tennis. He is at present a few miles from Murree 6,000 feet up, and quite handy to Rawalpindi. As his Squadron is now dismembered he may be moved shortly.

B. V. Buck left the Gold Coast at the end of August, and arrived in India at the end of September. He was subsequently posted to Kimbargaon, a dispersal Camp well away from any signs of habitation. He has, however, managed to get in a visit to Poona, about 80 miles away. Before leaving the Gold Coast he took part in a palaver with a native Chief in true Edgar Wallace fashion, and since in India has witnessed a Hindu Religious Festival, so should be able to add plenty of local colour to the stories of his travels.

C. B. Forster, who left England last January, was posted first to Delhi, thence to Lahore, and is now at Ahmedabad. He has recently taken up Badminton, which although not so fast as Squash, he finds quite fast enough for temperatures 120 in the shade.

Stafford Hockley is the latest arrival in this area. After spending the whole of the war years in England, he left the country in October en route for Singapore. There is nothing outstanding to report from T. H. Hollings although he writes regularly and is fit and well. He has at least one game of Soccer each week, and from the results reaching home, is apparently always on the winning side.

Harry Warman has been in India since July, and was last reported at Bangalore, but his last letter states he has had a fresh posting and is believed to be on the way farther East.

Tudor Williams is on his way to Rangoon, and is known to have reached Colombo. He celebrated his 21st birthday in November, so has little hopes of release yet.

F. Bailey is also now with S.E.A.C. although no address is yet to hand.

HOME NEWS.

Des Abbott returned from S. Africa by air early in September and was at the Club early in the season. Expects to be out before the end of the year.

Dennis Wade is stationed in the North and is getting some soccer with an amateur club run by Newcastle United whose ground he uses for training. He expects to leave for the East early in the new year but hopes to be demobbed in time to return to college in October.

Roy Morgan is also in the Newcastle area and plays football for Whitley Town in the Northern League.

Les Offer has been at Clitheroe but expects shortly to go to Chatham for a course.

Pat Rollings spent the first four months in this country adding some necessary weight to a meagre 9 stone, punctuated with odd visits to medical boards which resulted in being graded permanent C (main trouble old wound in left leg). Eventually found himself a Staff Captain where he contrives to do a modicum of work between cups of badly brewed tea.

C. G. Southcombe spent part of his repat leave at Enfield and looked in at the Club. He is at present stationed in Wiltshire just too far away to get up for a game at the Club. He had the good fortune to bring 3 football cups back from abroad.

Gordon Summerfield was working in Scotland for the last few months loading poison gas for dumping. During the recent strike was called down to Liverpool for service in the Docks.

E. Weatherhead, stationed in Cornwall has made several trips to Iceland and the Azores on transport duties. When in England he plays a fair amount of football.

R. J. Judson has been transferred from the R.A.F. to the Army. He has been playing left back regularly for the battalion team and is at present on an N.C.O. Instruction Course.

A. Tinke has recently been in hospital again with foot trouble but is now out. He is stationed in Edinburgh but is trying to get posted nearer home owing to his mother's ill health.

Ken White is back in this country again and writes to say how much he appreciated 'The Chat' and the 'Bulletin' whilst overseas. Owing to being in the Oceanic Branch he does not expect his Demob before April or May next year.

PEN PORTRAITS.

A "TOO ELDERLY GENTLEMAN."

If a little colour is essential to our well being, especially in the present austerity period, members and visitors when entering our Bar and being hit in the eye by the sight of our three auburn haired regulars to wit, Farnham Flower, Zambesi Joe and Ham, must be thankful that we at Winchmore Hill do not lack the essential feature. And such colourful names which might well cloak a shady company promoter, a Chicago gunman from the wild open spaces and last, but not least, a long forgotten pleasure. But we are only concerned with the third gentleman, Hamish Scott Knight, who although too elderly for the pleasures that Hughie Lloyd describes so graphically from his own wide and varied experience, is still young enough to be the little bit of ginger needed by other less enterprising gentlemen who sit on our Committees.

A Member for twenty years who at cricket has brightened many a colourless batting display with a good crack for six and when fielding at short cover has been an inspiration to his side. I well remember a very fine Innings of 40 at Lymington on tour, when following the usual practice, our side had made a bad start. Talent money for the Innings was paid at the rate of 2d. per run although part of this professionalism may still be outstanding. Perhaps this Innings which was very restrained, as the state of the game warranted, helped to sap his vitality, at least it did his memory, as I discovered to my cost at 1 a.m. in the Square at Bournemouth.

At football he played a thoughtful game on the left wing for the second side and but for an unfortunate quarrel with a lavatory basin would probably have reached that excellent discussion group, the first eleven. There he would not have failed as his lively and interesting contributions in Committee have since proved.

As an organiser the Club in general found little use for his undoubted ability until the Club's pontoon was restarted and he agreed to hold the baby, and what a baby he handed our Committee at the end of last season, a good 300 lbs. in weight I am told, surely not only breast fed but with a small part of himself and an egg or two thrown in. The Cricket Club then recognising that a Scot had come to town and that their Charity Child needed extra feeding placed in his thin though ample bosom the running of our special efforts for 1944 with the help of a few other excellent wet nurses and again the child throve.

If we at Winchmore Hill can always be certain of such choice spirits, our colours will never dull and our brightest period has not passed but in the future.

JIM KEENAN.

Jim Keenan is a Scot and learnt his football in Scotland and in common with his countrymen when they came South of the Border to play football, he has split the Hill's supporters into two camps. Does he hold on to the ball too long or does he so mesmerize the opponents with artistry that it is all to good purpose? The argument, like all arguments on sporting matters, will never be settled. Perhaps it is sufficient to go back some three or four seasons ago when Jim first joined the Hill; since then we cannot remember losing many games when he has been playing.

Starting with us at inside left, with a brief spell at centre forward, he has come back this season more active than ever, to his original position and has adopted the roving inside forward game where first-class ball control enables him to open up the opponents defence from midfield. Newcomers to the Hill side are at first a little bewildered by the instructions yelled at them by the inside left and are apt to be nettled until it is explained to them that keenness considers not courtesy. The advice is always sound but tends to be classic in so far as it sometimes demands that the ball be balanced on one proverbial sixpence and then kicked on to another thirty yards away. The Hill have never risen to those heights, hence the forcible epithets and pained look of resignation on Jim's face during most of the game.

We have not seen much of him after the games as his journey home is a long one and wartime travelling was not conducive to a late start from Winchmore Hill for a journey to Woolwich. Now and again, when away games have been south of the Thames, we welcome his dallying at the bar, and try to discover the secret of his 'retaliation tackle' which he inflicts upon opponents so soon after they have fouled him by more obvious methods. He maintains that it is the result of a scientific application of weight, which may be true except that we cannot quite see where the weight comes from. As travelling becomes easier, we hope that we shall see more of him in the Hill 'School' and persuade him to tell us the right answer. We might even find a 'mug' for him willing to be subjected to a practical demonstration.

One memorable day, Jim played cricket for the Hill 2nd XI (it is of course, always a memorable day when a Scotsman plays cricket). He found the small ball a little disconcerting at first, but after a few overs began fielding furiously at extra cover getting both hands to the ball every time. The snag was that he was using both hands to flap the ball down to his feet like a goalkeeper pushing a hot one round the post.

He was apprenticed in Glasgow as an engineer and from there travelled the world as a ship's engineer. He is now on the engineering staff of Standard Telephones & Cables Ltd., North Woolwich, at one time working with Ferdy Ings.

In our opinion the best inside forward we have had at the Hill and we urge our younger members to discover how, along with other stalwarts of the 1st XI he manages to keep going every time and all the time—playing on borrowed time as it were.

CLUB JOTTINGS.

The Guvnor and Mrs. Welsford wish to thank everyone for all the enquiries and the many kindnesses that they have received since Norman went away and particularly during recent months. They hope presently to be able to reply to the letters of condolence they have received but at present hope you will accept this expression of their gratitude for the sympathy and interest that has been a very real comfort to them.

Owing to health reasons Eric Christie has reluctantly had to relinquish his duties as Team and Match Secretary.

For the remainder of the season 'The Guvnor,' Mr. E. O. Welsford is adding one more task to the many he already performs for the Club and is taking over the duties of Team Secretary. His address is 66, Burford Gardens, N.13. Telephone : PALmers Green 6199 and CENTral 8080.

Tiger Smith is looking after the Fixtures at 11, Hamilton Crescent, N.13. Telephones : PALmers Green 4182 and MONarch 8377.

Congratulations to Dudley Wright on his recent engagement. What is there about these Welsh Hills ?
